

Postgraduate training course on oral health, for dentists, dental hygienists and paediatricians

Responsible: Guglielmo Campus

Description: "How to plan a preventive community program" The Summer School organized by the WHO Collaborating Centre for Epidemiology and Community Dentistry of Milan takes place in Sardinia, Porto Conte.

The course lasts 5 days, where Italian and International relators deal with the main aspects of oral diseases, preventive dentistry and the oral health education.

The course is accessible to 100 participants.

Expected outcome: training a group of professionals about community and preventive dentistry in order to serve disadvantaged population groups.

Links: Oral health system. From the research to the practice aimed to recreate community and preventive strategies and approaches.

Funding source: University of Milan

Timeframe of the activity: every year during the summer 2010-2014